Local Notes.

Now for Thanksgiving.
The leaves are about gone.
The turkey will soon be ripe.
Jack Frost is beginning to pinch.
Wise turkeys are seeking tall timber.
The Rural Routes are a great blessing.
Lancaster supply of water is now assured.
The campaign orator must now go to work.

The Knights of Pythias meet every Friday night.
Dr. Beazley's sale was well attended and good prices realized.

If you can't speak well for your neighbor, don't say anything.
Store stoves are becoming more popular as the days become colder.

The price of coal remains low, although other towns are kicking about a rise.

Stanford and Lancaster teams played a tie game of football Friday, five to five.

Wednesday, the 16th. Oyster supper by ladies of Grove church Christian Endeavor.

Remember the oyster supper at toll gate house, Camp Dick Robinson, Wednesday evening, the 16th.

A phone has been placed at the depot, and is proving of great benefit to the public. The number is 36.

Fishermen have now taken up their station around the store stove, and are catching some whales every night.

Parents seem to have drawn the lines over the urchins, as there is not near so much noise on the streets at night.

The Christian Endeavor, of the Christian church will have a bazaar and exchange at the post office Dec. 17th.

"Big Injun" Rothwell is one of the best Marshals the town ever had. He plays no favorites, and never runs off on mouse tracks.

The C E society will entertain Friday evening in the lecture room of the Christian church. The young people of the community are most cordially invited to attend.

Remember the R A Stone sale Saturday.

One family, living 1 1/2 miles from town is getting drinking water from a friend's cistern in Lancaster.

Don't be sour or crabbed, and as mean as the devil. Put on a smile, or take a "smile" if necessary, to cheer up. You'll feel better.

'Squire Sam Johnson raised thirty-one barrels of corn on two acres of ground, near town. The ears were large and extra fine.

The WCTU will have candy and an exchange at the post office Tuesday before Thanksgiving. Your patronage is earnestly solicited.

A charity organization should be formed to look after the deserving poor during the winter. This would be better for all concerned.

The Chute coons will soon begin to "work" on the fences about town. Its nothing unusual to hear of an entire panel being stolen in cold weather.

Thanksgiving Services.
The usual Thanksgiving services will be held at 10:30 a. m., this year, in the Christian church. Bro. Ellis will preach the sermon.

The report that the turkey crop will be short is all a fake. There are plenty of the toothsome birds in the country, so say those who ought to know.

Sam Menefee, the genial editor of the Danville Advocate, accuses us of sending him that jug of water the Lancaster stage left at his office last week. Didn't do it, Sam.

Next comes the Democratic primary election to select a candidate for State Senator. It will be held Saturday, Dec. 3. R L Hubble and M F Elkin, of Lincoln, are the candidates.

Ladies should be very careful about going near open fire places. A very narrow escape from a severe burning and the loss of a residence in this way happened right here in Lancaster, Friday.

Several towns in Central Kentucky are ordering compulsory vaccination. This is the right step and should be done in Lancaster. Don't wait 'til the horse is gone before locking the stable door.

Will Sell Saturday.
We call attention to the advertisement of Mr R A Stone in this issue. He will offer some good property tomorrow (Saturday) and if you want a bargain, don't fail to attend.

Work in the first degree will be conferred at the K P Lodge tomorrow (Friday) night. Every member is urged to be present. The lodge is now in better shape than ever before.

Mr Banks Hudson has moved into his new quarters at the Leavell planing mill, where he has splendid facilities for handling the large quantities of hemp, wool, grain, etc., which he buys.

Bought a Farm in Garrard.
Winchester Democrat:—Zack Elkin who recently sold his farm near the waterworks, has bought the farm of T S Hagan in Garrard county, containing 210 acres at $80 per acre.

Signs Fall in Dry Weather.
"Three big frosts and a rain," says the old proverb, but the frosts have been multiplied and no rain. However, the weather man is weakening and predicts probable rain every day.

Our young friend, Lewis Herndon, who is working for Belknap, in Louisville, received a promotion last week. His many friends will be glad to hear of "Snag's" good luck, as he is a deserving and industrious young fellow.

For Thanksgiving.
The ladies of the Baptist church will have an exchange at the post-office Saturday before Thanksgiving. Everything nice to eat at very low prices.

Bourne-Humphrey.
Mr Wesley Bourne and Miss Nora Humphrey were married at the residence of Rev C S Ellis. The contracting parties reside in the Bourne neighborhood and are well-known and popular young people.

"Bud" James' Luck.
Harrodsburg Democrat:—Mr I C James returned from Chicago Saturday night, proud of his success there. In the big horse show he took three first and two second prizes, showing the horses of Dr Cann, of Georgetown.

Lock Completed.
Lock No. 10, at Ford, on Kentucky river, is completed, and was thrown open to the passage of boats last Saturday. Work on lock and dam No. 11 at Irvine, is being pushed forward at a brisk rate.—Carrollton News.

Taken Down.
The Postle stock of hardware was offered at public sale Saturday afternoon, a bid of only $1,000 being offered, it was taken down. This was not near half its worth. This is a splendid stand for the hardware business.

Promising Lad.
A promising young genius is Master Roger Aldridge, the nine year old son of Malcolm Aldridge. He has constructed quite a number of articles which would do credit to an experienced mechanic. His latest work is the construction of a pair of balance scales, made of a can top and sticks, two clay pigeons being used as the scoops.

Old Eye-Sore Gone.
The people of Lancaster owe a debt of gratitude to Mr C D Powell for tearing away the old Eason shack on Richmond street. It was one of the oldest houses in Kentucky, and contained enough stone and lumber to build half a dozen houses like those constructed these days. There's no telling when it was built, even Uncle Dennis Brown and Bob Kinnaird failing to remember when it was put up.

H. B. Northcott Moves.
Mr H B Northcott, the poultry and produce man, has moved his headquarters to the Leavell planing mill property on Crab Orchard street where he has splendid facilities for handling his stock. He will pay highest market prices for poultry, hides, furs, and everything in this line. Remember that he will always have on hand, lime, cement and salt, and will sell the best coal ever brought to Lancaster at the very lowest prices.

Scarcity of Farm Help.
Farmers say they have never known help to be as hard to get, nor have prices ever been so high. Any kind of a hand wants almost twice his worth, if he will work at all. One farmer, near town is paying a dollar a day and three meals for hands to shuck corn, and we know of one who last week not only paid this price but came to town in a wagon every morning, hauled the negroes to his farm, fed them and then hauled them to town at night. This was kept up until his large crop of corn was shucked. There are plenty of negroes here, but not one in ten will work at any price. The good ones are eagerly sought after, and any man who can work and will work, can get most any wages he wants. Many farmers are renting their places and moving to towns for the simple reason that they cannot get help to handle the crops.

This state of case exists all over Kentucky, and every exchange coming to our desk contains articles on this subject. In some towns a good cook is worth her weight in gold, while a house girl, a luxury few people can afford. Many of the better class of darkeys have moved to Indiana and Ohio, as they claim to get better wages up there. In this claim they misrepresent, for, if they would work as hard and as faithfully down here as they up there, they would be worth more money and get better prices in Kentucky. It is a very serious proposition to the farmers and house keepers, and a problem hard to figure out.

Remember that H B Northcott has removed to the Leavell Planing Mill property on Crab Orchard street.

Enterprising J B Conn finds that the number of calls after he closes at night is such that he has a phone installed in his residence, No. 64.

Everything brought good prices at Dr. Beazley's sale Saturday. Capt. Ike Dunn, one of the best auctioneers in the South "cried" the sale.

When in Bryantsville, stop at Mrs. Josephine Boner's and get the best meal to be found in Kentucky. Rates reasonable, and you will get the best meal you ever sat down to.

Mr Chas Ballew, of the Hyattsville neighborhood, left a strange specimen of the feathered tribe at McRoberts store Wednesday, and the hunters are puzzled to know what it is. Beddow Morrow says it is a cross between the American eagle and a Shanghai rooster.

Notice to Teachers.
Money for teachers will be ready at the law office of Lewis L Walker next Saturday. Call and get your cash on that date.

Grove Church C. E.
The Christian Endeavor Society, of Pleasant Grove church, will give an oyster supper at the toll-gate house, Camp Dick Robinson, next Wednesday evening, the 16th, beginning at 5 o'clock. Admission 25cts. Admission 25cts. A splendid supper will be served, and you should go and thus help a noble cause.

Important Notice.
After the inside of this issue was printed, a telephone message from Bryantsville stated that the supper at that place had been changed to Tuesday 15th. Remember the date, 15th, and be there.

Millinery at Cost.
We have decided to sell all our Ready-To-Wear and Pattern Hats at cost, in order to close out our immense stock of these lines. They are all beautiful, right up to date, and you will miss a rare bargain if you fail to get one. The sale is now on, so come early and get first choice. The Marvel Millinery Store. Miss Ada Dickson. 11-11 tf.

Pretty Fence.
Mr J E Stormes has built an elegant iron fence in front of his Dr. Herring property. The gate posts are handsomely designed, and bearing his name for the place, "The Maples," while the gates are of exceptionally pretty design. He has rented the place to Mr Jennings for next year, as he has not decided upon the style of residence he will build. It will be a corker when he does build.

Death of Mrs. Chesnut.
After a lingering illness, Mrs T D Chesnut died at her home near Marks bury, Sunday night. She was a Miss Bixler, and was born near Salvisa. She was a devoted member of the Fork church, and beloved by all who knew her. One daughter, Mrs Alexander, of Hubble, with the husband is left to mourn the loss. In their great bereavement they have the sympathy of many friends in Garrard and adjoining counties.

Pure Water, A Plenty.
The water now sent to town thro' the mains is coming from a big spring which has been discovered near the reservoir, and not one drop is being taken from the lake. This spring ran only a little stream for quite a while, but a little digging has developed a fine flow of water and this is run direct to the pool from which the engines send the water to town. It is as cold as ice, and clear as crystal. The lake, by the way, now has ten feet of water over an acre of land, which is something remarkable, when our sister cities haven't enough to make a good, old fashioned toddy.

Republican Landslide.
The returns from Tuesday's election shows a landslide for the Republicans all over the Nation. Roosevelt will stand in the electoral college with 325 votes to Parker's 161, Parker carrying only thirteen states, all of which are Southern. Roosevelt carried every doubtful state. Kentucky went Democratic by the usual majority, electing all Democratic Congressmen, save in the Eleventh. This, the 8th District, elects G G Gilbert to Congress by a majority of about 2,500. Jas E Cantrell defeats our townsman, Capt. Herndon, for judge of Court of Appeals, about 10,000. The majorities in each state are far ahead of any in recent years. The Republicans will have control of both branches of Congress by a large majority. President Roosevelt announced Wednesday morning that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for re-election.

Rockcastle went republican 834, Madison 150 democratic, Boyle 261 democratic, Mercer 200 democratic, Anderson 500 democratic, Shelby 1,100 democratic, Spencer 600 democratic, Jessamine 200 democratic, Lincoln 63 democratic.

Democratic Committee.
The Garrard County Democratic Committee is hereby called to meet at the court house in Lancaster, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 12th at 2 o'clock. Business of Importance.
W G Gooch, Ch'm.
G B Swinebroad, Sec'y.

Election in Garrard.

Tuesday was the most quiet election day ever experienced in Garrard county. The full vote was polled, but the quiet, modest way in which the voters went about the polls was something exceedingly remarkable, here in a county where every inch of ground is generally stubbornly contested. In town there was not the slightest disorder, and, most of the time there was not a corporal's guard about the voting places or on the streets. The usual hub bub kicked up on the night of election was very conspicuous by its absence, and the Public Square was as quiet as a country grave yard. For this spirit of advancement in civilization, let's give three cheers and a tiger!

The votes in Garrard, as correctly as we can get it, is as follows:

Precincts	Rep	Dem	Union	Total
Court House	117	137	106	360
East Park	225	101	106	432
West Park	110	138	106	354
E Bryantsville	169	98	106	373
W Bryantsville	131	163	106	399
Hubbles	86	225	106	417
Walker's	87	109	106	302
Palat Lick	109	172	106	387
Union	89	202	106	397
Majority	1177	1343	1171	3691

There may be some difference found when the official count is made Friday but the above is not far from correct. In addition to vote given above, the Peoples ticket received one vote at Court House, one at East Park and one at Union. The Socialist ticket received one vote at East Park, one at West Park, two at East Bryantsville and one at Union.

New Members of Council.
Messrs. Jno. M. Duncan, Alex Beazley and E. W. Morrow were elected as members of the City Council at Tuesday's election. These were the only names on the ballot.
